Training Needs

- a. It is the responsibility of the Customer to ensure that Users within their group have received adequate training.
- b. Where a customer query is identified as a training need as opposed to a support need this is considered to be unfair usage and will be referred to the training team:
 - i. A training need is defined as any query which requires explanation of how to use the software beyond what can reasonably be considered a clarification, suggestion or reminder.
 - ii. Any query that will require phone or online support of over 15 minutes to explain, which is not a technical fault or forms part of a wider troubleshooting query which requires the Support Team's technical help or guidance is also considered a training need.

Development Work

- c. Development work includes but is not limited to:
 - i. Any split, merge or change to the structure of customers' databases.
 - ii. Any unique changes to the interface or back-end databases.
 - iii. The introduction of any software feature or hardware compatibility only available to a small number of customers.
- d. Development work will be passed to the development team to estimate the feasibility and time involved to complete the work.
- e. Where development work is requested that would be of benefit to the larger customer base, this will be considered as part of CoolCare's development release plan.
